

ARTHUR C. KIMBER, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kimber of Niles, received his silver wings June 26 when he graduated as a second lieutenant from the Advanced Two - Engine Pilot School, at Pecos Army Air Field, it was announced by Col. Orin J. Bushey, commanding officer.

The new pilot completed a course in training in twin-engine aircraft. He was assigned to Pecos from Lancaster, California.

He is a former student of Washington Union High School, Pecos Army Air Field, a station of the AAF Training Command, is located in the historic trans-Pecos area of west Texas.

And another man from Washington Township has won his wings. MELVIN C. LEAL, son of J. H. Leal of Warm Springs, has successfully completed the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School training at Williams Field, Chandler, Ariz. The new pilot has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps.

Lt. Leal is a former student of Washington Union High School at Centerville.

EMMANUEL PATRICK MACIEL, of Niles received his silver wings when he graduated as a second lieutenant from the Advanced Two - Engine Pilot School at Pecos Army Air Field on June 26.

Lt. Maciel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio O. Maciel.

The new pilot completed a course in training in two-engine craft. Before assignment to Pecos he was stationed at Merced.

Lt. Maciel was a student of Washington Union High School in Centerville.

Cpl. RAYMOND CRANE writes from his camp in Michigan to his mother, Mrs. Sara Crane, that he enjoys The Register so much that he even reads the ads!

H. A. 2/c RICHARD V. TUCHSEN has finished his training at the Medical Corps School in Maryland and is now stationed at the Chelsea Naval Hospital at Boston.

Bond Drive Extended To July 31; Township Behind Its Schedule

"Washington Township is falling short of buying its share of bonds," said L. R. Burdick, drive chairman, yesterday. "Our quota for the Fifth War Loan is $665,000—and we've bought only $350,000 to date. We've got to do better than that."

Burdick explained that the drive will be extended for individual purchasers to run to July 31. Originally it was to end July 8.

Closing date for corporation purchases, however, remains July 8.

This week Union Oil Company bought $5,000 worth of bonds in Washington Township, and Alameda County allocated $46,000 in bonds toward the Washington Township quota.

To date, individual purchases account for $297,000 of the $350,000 bought, and corporation purchases account for $153,000.

"The drive is going slowly all over the country," Burdick said. "California has filled only half its quota. We in Washington Township are slightly ahead of the average for the state, but that is no excuse."

"We must buy more bonds, and then still more bonds!"

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS AT ROTARY MEETING

New officers were installed at the meeting of the Rotary Club of Niles yesterday.

President is Joe Buchen; secretary, D. Q. Grabbill; treasurer, George Bonde; sergeant-at-arms, Claire Lopez; directors, Robert Blacow and E. D. Meeker; past-president, George Stratton.

Committee appointments are as follows:

Club service committee, L. R. Burdick (chairman).

Community Service, E. E. Enos (chairman), Ernest Frick, Virgil Young, Claire Lopez.

Vocational Service: Warren Gravestock (chairman), Clarence Crane, E. E. Dias, Wallace Ebricht.

International Service: T. Q. Grabbill (chairman), D. Q. Grabbill, Maurice O'Brien.

Program: L. R. Burdick (chairman), A. E. Enos.

Membership: C. Kraft (chairman), George Stratton, Robert Blacow.

Pinion: Dixon Bristow (chairman), George Bonde, Joe D. Gomes.

Music: Dixon Bristow (chairman), Mac McDonald.

Attendance: Bud Meeker (chairman), D. Q. Grabbill.

Public Information: Gladys Williams.

In the past year, under the presidency of George Stratton, the Rotary Club included among its activities:

Support of all bond drives.

Equipping and supplying a so-larum at Shoemaker Hospital.

Supplying hospitals in this area with magazine subscriptions.

And eight local Rotarians are in the armed forces—more than from any other Rotary Club of its size in the state.

IT MIGHT BE YOUR OWN BOY

Who is making surgical dressings for your boy? Are you? His very life may depend on the surgical dressings you have, or haven't, made.

Every day, Monday through Friday, you can go to the Surgical Dressings Room at the Centerville Elementary School and spend your time making these dressings that are needed so terribly by our boys overseas.

It isn't only the women who are needed; men, too, can do their part. There is a special table fitted up for men at the Surgical Dressings Room, and every Monday night finds the men busy at this humane work. And men are good at it!

The room is open on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m. During the day, it is open Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 to 4 o'clock; on Wednesdays from 9 to 3; and on Thursdays from 9:30 to 3:30.

The following women have donated over 1000 hours of time making dressings: Mrs. Fritz Waltenberger, Mrs. Mary Rodriguez, and Mrs. Mary Rose. Giving over 500 hours have been: Mrs. Pearl Dusterberry, Mrs. Wilhelmina Dusterberry, Miss Elizabeth Dusterberry, Mrs. Peggy Wright, Mrs. Mary George and Mrs. Hilda Christensen.

EMPLOYEES TRAINED BY WAC

Induction training of new employees at one of the world's largest Chemical Warfare installations, the Army's Pine Bluff Arsenal, Arkansas, is supervised by a woman—Lt. Sara J. Spires of the Women's Army Corps.

Allied Commanders In France

A HISTORIC WAR CONFERENCE is shown taking place in this picture. Britain's General Montgomery, commanding the Allied armies in Normandy, is having his first meeting on French soil with his invasion army commander, America's Lt. General Omar Bradley. They are poring over maps in a field as the American, British and Canadian troops fight their way relentlessly forward within gun-range of the scene.

HOLY NAMES SELLS RANCH PROPERTY TO SAN JOSEAN

Final papers were signed this week whereby the 1220-acre ranch in Warm Springs belonging to The Sisters of the Holy Names was sold to Fred H. Goossen of San Jose.

This ranch, known in former years as the Stanford Ranch, is situated on the southern slope of Mission Peak. In pioneer times this vast acreage of low hills was known as El Rancho del Agua Caliente, named from the group of warm springs close to the place where the Indians used to gather in the 18th century.

The site, which was acquired by the Sisters in 1927, was bought for the original purpose of building a college, but later it was decided to have the college in Oakland.

Mr. Goossen intends to make the ranch his family home. He is in the trucking business.

CAPT. OAKS HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Capt. T. K. Oaks, widely known throughout Washington Township, arrived in Centerville last Monday evening.

Captain Oaks, recently reported in a London hospital, came via a hospital ship to Charleston, S. C., and on to California by train. The entire trip took 18 days.

He was met in San Jose by his wife, and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Stevenson.

After a few weeks of rest and quiet after his many harrowing experiences, Captain Oaks will be "at home" to his many friends.

UNIQUE SERVICE AT NAZARENE CHURCH

The Church of the Nazarene in Niles will be the setting of a very unique service Sunday, July 9, at 2:30 p.m. The new service flag will be dedicated with appropriate ceremony.

Following will be the dedication of Darrel McKinley Harrelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harrelson of Niles. The father for whom one star is placed on the flag will be present from his Navy training camp. The little boy's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Horton of Alameda and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Harrelson of Niles. Other relatives will also be present.

Mrs. A. E. Hibbard, pastor of the church, will officiate, with the assistance of Rev. Mrs. Bertha Jones of the Hayward Church of the Nazarene.

Mrs. Hibbard has been handling the regular services of both the Hayward and Niles churches for the last six weeks due to the illness of Rev. Jones' mother in Kansas, where Rev. Jones had to go.

NEW CUSTODIAN AT DECOTO SCHOOL

Joseph Nunes of Decoto has been hired to be custodian at the Decoto Grammar School, according to Eph Musick, principal.

The former custodian, David Janeiro, is still disabled from an accident to his eye, suffered when the spring on a door at the school struck him.

LET'S START LOOKING!

Joseph C. Costa reported to the Ration Board at Niles that he has lost 120 gas coupons—good for 600 gallons of gas! Mr. Costa is a dairyman from Irvington.

GEORGE ROEDING ISSUES WARNING TO MOTORISTS

George C. Roeding, chairman of the Washington Township Ration Board, warned motorists yesterday that unless they keep their mileage ration books on their persons they are apt to have them stolen.

Several cases have been reported where mileage books were left in cars and were consequently "lifted." A person's wallet, says Mr. Roeding, is a pretty safe place.

Roeding stated that if any summer trips are planned it would be advisable for B and C card holders to deposit their B and C coupons with the Ration Board before leaving on the trip. When they are deposited a receipt will be issued to the motorist, which he will keep on his person and thereby be able to prove, if necessary, that he is taking the trip only on A coupons.

The B and C coupons, of course, will be returned to him upon his completion of the trip.

WHO SAYS IT ISN'T A SMALL WORLD?

It's a small world, after all—so think Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duffie of Niles.

Upon opening the door last Saturday evening in answer to an insistent knocking, they were greeted by two perfectly strange sailors.

"We're from South Carolina," said one of the sailors to Mr. Duffie. "We lived next door to your brother down there."

Sure enough, the sailors, now stationed at Camp Shoemaker, had lived next door to Mr. Duffie's brother, the Rev. George S. Duffie. They had attended his church and had even planted their victory gardens together.

Naturally, there was lots to talk about, so the Duffies invited the two boys to dinner. They were S1/c Jack O'Shields and S2/c James G. Roof, both of Whittemore, South Carolina.

ROLAND BENDEL HAS NEW TEMPORARY JOB

Roland Bendel, during the absence of Harold F. Gray, is acting superintendent of Mosquito abatement of Alameda County, and commutes daily to his temporary office at the court house in Oakland.

Gray, who is chief engineer of mosquito abatement in the county, has gone to Los Angeles, where he will give a course in sanitation to a class of navy officers at the University of California at Los Angeles. He gave the same course at Berkeley.

Mr. Bendel will act as superintendent for the two months that Mr. Gray expects to be away.

California Looks to Bountiful Harvest With Critical Labor Shortage

California is facing one of the greatest harvest seasons in its history with the greatest manpower shortage, Walter Gamman, manager of the Hayward office of the U. S. Employment Service, declared this week in urging residents of this section to prepare for C Day.

C Day means cannery day.

Gamman said that whereas the apricot crop of last year was 70,000 tons, about one-third of normal, the crop this year is expected to be about 300,000 tons, and that the fruit must be canned when it is ready.

Last year's peach crop, he said, was 300,000 tons, and this year is expected to reach 400,000 tons.

Practically all vegetable crops are also expected to be above normal.

While it is impossible to forecast the exact time of C Day, when volunteer workers will be needed in the canneries, Gamman added, the season is now under way and

LOCAL BOY IN ASSAULT FORCE

Motor Machinist's Mate 1/c Herbert A. Perry, 21, was a member of a U. S. Naval crew in the American assault force which invaded France, according to a report just received by The Register.

Perry is the son of Mrs. Mary Perry of Niles. His brother, S 2/c Frank E. Perry, is serving in the South Pacific.

The assault in France was not the first time Perry has seen action; he was with the assault forces in Africa, Sicily, and Italy.

He is a graduate of Washington Union High School and before joining the Navy was with the merchant marine, serving on an oil tanker.

MOTHERSINGERS TO BE ORGANIZED IN IRVINGTON P. T. A.

An interesting new group is in the process of being formed in the Irvington P. T. A. It is called the Mothersingers.

At the executive board meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Walter Connolly, it was voted unanimously to start this choral group at the first opportunity.

Although the Mothersingers are new to Washington Township, many Parent-Teacher organizations throughout the state have taken it up, and are enthusiastic in their praise for this recreational activity. All mothers who enjoy group singing are going to be invited to the first meeting, which will be held some time in August.

Mrs. Wilfred Henry, will do the directing.

Mrs. Nancy Pauline Turner is state music chairman for the P.T.A.

FIRE THREATENS SHINN ORCHARD

A grass fire burning one-eighth of a mile along the Western Pacific tracks, threatening for a time the nearby Shinn orchard, was quickly extinguished yesterday by the Niles Fire Department.

It had burned as far as the eucalyptus trees, however.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

from an operation is now on his way to Norfolk, Va.

A/C BILL GASTELUM, who has been home on a five-day leave, has now returned to San Antonio, Tex. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gastelum of Newark.

Pvt. JOE E. MENDOZA has received a medical discharge from the Army and his family in Niles is expecting him home momentarily. He has served 19 months in the Hawaiian Islands.

It's one of those things that seemed too good to be true. When Barney Bragg waited to step into the 6 o'clock bus the other morning, on his way to work, he looked up to see a familiar face and a familiar voice saying, "Hi, Dad!" It was his own son, Cpl. BARNEY BRAGG, just arriving on the bus from Camp Polk, La. No, Mr.

Bragg didn't know he was coming. Young Bragg will be in Niles for the remainder of his 16-day furlough.

Pfc. LEONARD L. LUCIO has moved from Fort Ord to Ft. Lewis in Washington.

P.O. 3/c WILBERT E. PINE was home over the Fourth to celebrate his 23rd birthday, which came on the Fourth. He is stationed with the Coast Guard in San Francisco. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Pine of Newark.

Lt. JOSEPH C. WALLMANN is home on a 15-day furlough, after having received his wings at La Junta, Colo. He will return to Colorado for advanced flying in light-medium bombardment.

Lt. L. R. RAYMOND, fighter pilot, has left Tallahassee, Fla., and is now overseas. He received his commission at Randolph Field last February.

RITES HELD FOR JOHN ARMSTRONG

Rites were held last Saturday afternoon at the Berge Mortuary in Irvington for John Armstrong, 77, resident of this community for the past 27 years. He died June 30, leaving a wife, Mrs. Sadie Armstrong, and a daughter, Vera.

A retired contractor, Mr. Armstrong was born in Wisconsin. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery in Oakland. Rev. O. D. Ironmonger of Hayward officiated.

GARDEN PEST PAMPHLET PUBLISHED BY U. C.

So that victory gardeners may identify the pests that attack their vegetables and learn the methods of destroying them, the University of California Agricultural Extension Service has just issued a new pamphlet: "Garden Pests, Related Insects, and Methods of Control." It is free at the office of any county farm advisor or from the Agricultural Extension Service at Berkeley.

NEWARK GIRL ENGAGED; CONTINUES STUDIES

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bertolotti of Newark have announced the engagement of their daughter Shirley to Pfc. Howard Buschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buschke of Martinez.

Miss Bertolotti and Private Buschke announced their engagement to classmates of the groom-to-be at a dinner party at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

Miss Bertolotti is a graduate of Washington Union High School and has been attending San Jose State College the past three years. She belongs to Alpha Beta Sigma sorority and to Beta Beta Beta, a biology honor society. Her engagement was announced to her sorority by the traditional box of candy.

Private Buschke, a graduate of Mt. Diablo High School, is attending the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco, where he is a sophomore. Formerly he attended San Jose State, where he was a member of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity. There are no plans as to the time of the wedding.

COUNTRY CLUB WOMEN CARRY ON DURING SUMMER

Although the Country Club of Washington Township is officially inactive for the summer, many of its members continue to be busy with various projects which the club sponsors. Perhaps the most important work being done at present is the weekly trip to the hospital at Shoemaker.

A group of women go up each week and take fruit, flowers, cigarettes and magazines to the boys who are laid up in the wards. The boys were especially thrilled over baskets of cherries which were sent up, and are looking forward with whetted appetites to the apricots which should soon be ripe enough to make their appearance.

In addition to trips to the hospital, there is the regular monthly trip to the Hospitality House at Hayward. Many of the club women bake cakes, cookies and pies for this event, and then stay to serve the boys, to chat with them—and to wash the dishes.

It is not only the group activities that keep the club women busy, however. Individually, many of the women are contributing their time and energy toward the war effort. Mrs. Loren Marriott, for instance, puts in long hours in the orchards and in the canneries, as does Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald. And Mrs. Joe Shinn Jr. not only works in the orchard, helping out when the help shortage is a problem, but also serves on the ration board.

Mrs. Alvin Searles, too, is doing her part by working in the fruit and also driving a truck when necessary. Mrs. Franklin Brown has even been known to drive the tractor, and Mrs. W. E. Trenouth puts in long hours on her victory garden and walnut orchard.

There are others, too, of the Country Club who are coming to the front during the shortage of labor, and are doing their utmost to save the crops. It might thus be said that, though there are no meetings for the summer, the Country Club is going right ahead with its good work.

VERNON ROSE AND WIFE CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rose of Niles celebrated their first wedding anniversary last Saturday, July 1.

Mr. Rose, who was born in Niles, met his wife, the former Elsie Richmond, when he was stationed with the U. S. Army in San Antonio, Tex. He served there a year and a half and was given a medical discharge.

Since then he and his wife have been living in Niles, and he has been working at the James Graham Manufacturing Co. If Mr. Rose is called back into the army again, Mrs. Rose will return to her home in Texas.

Their anniversary was spent with Mr. Rose's mother, Mrs. May Wiley, now living in Salinas.

How to torture your neighbors

ONE OF THE liveliest forms of torturing your neighbors is to barbecue some meat out in the backyard (of course, if you're in a good barbecuing mood, you'll invite them over). And it's a guaranteed way to add special enjoyment to a July meal. Here are a few suggestions which experienced barbecuers have found useful (remember that it's just about the same as indoor broiling, except that the heat comes from underneath).

Give barbecue flavor to meats by marinating them for several hours before cooking, in French dressing or a spicy barbecue sauce, or swab them with either while grilling the meat.

Breast of lamb is deliciously different, when barbecued (allow 1 1/2 lb. per person); season, and grill for about an hour or until done, turning often.

Steaks, spareribs, chicken and fish are other barbecue favorites, of course—but be patient in cooking each of them!

Barbecue ears of corn simply by removing silk and husks, and grilling for about 10 minutes, turning and brushing frequently with melted butter or margarine.

And here's a "salad-sauce" that goes with all barbecued meats and makes them taste extra good:

SALSA
1 medium onion 2 tbsps. salad oil
3 medium tomatoes 1 tsp. salt
1 large green pepper 1/2 tsp. mustard
2 tbsps. vinegar 1/4 tsp. celery seed
Peel onion; wash tomatoes and remove stem end; wash pepper and remove seeds. Finely chop all vegetables. Add vinegar, oil and seasonings; mix well. Let stand a few hours to blend flavors. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

A Job of Hiring to Do

The world today is one huge heap of rubble. This fall we've got to hire a man to superintend the job of cleaning it up. We can hire Roosevelt for still another four years. Or we can hire a new man, Dewey by name.

Beyond these two men, naturally, there is no choice. Because politically the government of our country is a closed-shop arrangement and any man wanting the job of the presidency has to belong to either of two major unions, the names of which are the Democratic Party and the Republican Party.

The Republican Party organizers met in Chicago last week and fixed up a contract under which they are willing to let their man work for this country. The Democratic Party boys will come to that later.

These organizers, peculiarly, don't care much about what hours or for what wages their men work. What they say they care about is conditions.

The Republican union will let their man work for the United States, so it says, only if the people will contract to have more business in government and less government in business (or words to that effect). And they want a certain set of world conditions, national conditions, social conditions, and financial conditions, and so on.

The Democratic union organizers haven't got around to the contract they want to present to the employers, who are we, the people, to sign, but presumably they will want to renew the existing contract. And after the war, they no doubt will agree, they might be willing to shave down the bureaucratic set-up a little so that fewer of their good Democratic union members will be working on Democratic bureaus and more will be working for Republicans in private business. The organizers probably will hate to do this, but they've got to put it in their revised contract if they want us, the voters, to rehire their top man and his host of underlings.

We're going to settle down for a few months now to thinking about which man we personally want to hire. It's a pretty important job and we have only two alternatives.

The man we're going to hire will have to help blue-print and construct a new world. But first there is this big excavation project of clearing ground, clearing out Hitler and the rest. A pretty big excavation job.

So, you Republican and Democratic union organizers, bring out your bull-dozers and let us take a look at them and size them up for the job.

We're Falling Down

If the boys in the foxholes of France could read this, they'd learn that Washington Township is still 45 per cent from her Fifth War Loan quota.

If the men who are fighting and dying in the South Pacific could see this, they'd know that we at home still are far short of meeting our responsibility to them.

Perhaps it's well they won't see this. They'd be disappointed.

They are doing the fighting, the suffering, the dying.

They're doing it to make this a better world for all of us. Many of them won't return to enjoy the better days ahead. The better world will be their heritage to us.

But what are we doing to back them—to back the attack? Buying bonds—LENDING our money at INTEREST in the face of their struggles, their sacrifices of life and limbs.

If we invested every cent we had we still wouldn't be doing enough. We can't do enough.

Let's write a record that we won't be ashamed to have our heroes read.

V DAY DRIVE TO VICTORY

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

The state legislature, during the recent special session, undoubtedly spoke for the great majority of the people of California when it adopted a resolution memorializing Congress to amend the excess land provision of the Federal Reclamation Law, so that it shall not apply to the Central Valley Water Project, nor to lands irrigated by it.

This is the Reclamation Law provision which Secretary of the Interior Ickes is now using as a big stick in his effort to limit the number of acres which any farmer may own in the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys—and to compel persons owning more than 160 acres to dispose of their properties under threat of being denied irrigation water.

The legislature, in its memorial to Congress, recalled that "The Federal Reclamation Law was originally devised for the reclamation and irrigation of lands in the Great Plains region in order to open up government-owned land for settlement and development", and the legislature then called attention to the fact that the situation in California is in no way parallel.

"The Central Valley Project," said the legislative resolution, "is superimposed upon an established economy and will principally affect lands already in private ownership. And the application of the excess land provisions to a situation such as is presented by the Central Valley Project will cause great disruption and will have results which probably were not anticipated by the Congress when it enacted the provision."

As a matter of fact, the attempt of Ickes and his associates to enforce the 160-acre limitation in California's already-developed and long-established Central Valley is another deplorable instance of the efforts of bureaucratic officials to twist the laws to suit their own purposes.

It is wrong to own more than 160 acres in the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys, then it is equally wrong to own more than 160 acres anywhere else—and there is neither logic nor reason in singling out any one area in California for such limitation, without making it apply equally to all others.

That statement would be subject to challenge if either the Central Valley or any other area in California was an undeveloped wilderness just being opened up to settlers, but if the easterners have that conception of California lands then they should come out here and try to find some government-owned land that they would like to farm.

We are not entering into a debate as to whether a fixed limit should be placed on the number of acres in American farms, or California farms. That is not the question at issue. If such a limit is to be imposed, it should be done on broad social and economic grounds—after very mature consideration—and should apply to all similar areas alike.

Actually, the so-called "corporation farms," or "factories in the field," if they were ever a serious menace, are not much of a menace in California today. The laws of competition, rather than man-made laws, are gradually taking care of that problem, for by and large "factories in the field" simply haven't been able to compete with the industrious, independent farmer tilling his own soil.

Of much greater concern to California, when our California farmers view the possibility of Mr. Ickes being installed as high lord and overseer of the Central Valley, is the gradual regimentation which will come with government control—the regulation, without number, and the questionnaires already sent out, prying into what church the farmer attends, and why, what friends he has, and how often he visits them.

Viewed in retrospect, California probably made a mistake in seeking and securing federal financing of the Central Valley Project, and our present dilemma certainly should serve as an object lesson against running to Washington for government-aid, unless there is no other way out.

Nonetheless, California can't afford to have its farms broken up and sold at Mr. Ickes' whim—and it is to be hoped that the legislature's protest will not fall on deaf ears in the national capital.

DAIRYMEN BALANCE HERDS WITH FEED

"Adjusting the size of the herd to fit the supply of feed is an important consideration in solving the problems confronting dairymen," G. E. Gordon, extension specialist in dairying, University of California, said today.

"An important point to keep in mind is the fact that cows, to be efficient and satisfactory producers, must be well fed at all times. If the feed supply is limited, it is better to cull out some of the low producers in order that the good cows may at all times have an adequate amount of feed to enable them to produce up to their inherited ability," Gordon says.

"It is well to keep in mind that good cows use both feed and labor more effectively than do poor

BOOK RECALLS CITRUS RANCHING

Early development of citrus and walnut ranching in California and the formation of the California Fruit Growers Exchange is detailed in a new book, "Fifty Years a Rancher," by C. C. Teague, prominent citrus grower and regent of the University of California.

The new volume, published by the Ward Richie Press of Los Angeles, constitutes Teague's personal reminiscences from his boyhood in Maine and early years of California ranching through his successful efforts in behalf of cooperative marketing ones. In the interest of efficiency, such feed and labor should be used with those cows that have the ability to utilize them."

Money spent for War Bonds goes to the front. Sometimes it provides spectacular equipment like planes, or it buys a runty donkey like this American soldier is taking ashore in Italy. The quicker your dollars go into action, the sooner it will be over. Buy More War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

FREE SERVICE TO SPORTSMEN

In order to assure hunters and anglers of information about the activities of the commission and the various bureaus of the Division of Fish and Game, a new, free service is being offered to active sportsmen's organizations of California whose members are interested in the welfare of our wildlife resources.

Only sportsmen's clubs that apply and qualify will be mailed this monthly bulletin covering actions of the Fish and Game Commission and work accomplished by the Bureaus of the Division.

Each group that applies will receive an information form to be filled out, setting forth certain facts, names and addresses, and returned to the Education Director, Division of Fish and Game, Ferry Building, San Francisco.

ARRESTED FOR DEER KILLING

Considerable preliminary work on the part of Fish and Game Warden R. J. Yates recently resulted in the arrest and conviction of Emmet Gamboni, Pt. Reyes Station, for killing and possession of two buck deer during the closed season.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

"What's the matter with everybody around here," I said to the editor. "They all have funny looks in their eyes this week—sort of hazy-eyed."

"Not hazy-eyed," said the editor. "Dewey-eyed."

Things I would like to see:

Snow on the Presbyterian Church in Centerville. (It would look like a Christmas card.)

The Washington Township bond quota over the top.

The Gorman and Grau lakes full of water.

A really fine artist painting the lovely scenes around Mission San Jose.

The junior college, that is to be built somewhere in Southern Alameda County, located in Washington Township. WHY NOT?

Everybody in Washington Township reading The Township Register.

We have a very interesting classified ad this week. It was sent all the way from Vancouver, Wash. We think it should inspire hope in a lot of frustrated maidens—and gentlemen.

We would like to hear from boys in the armed forces who read this column. To the first boy who writes us a letter in answer to this plea, we will mail a carton of cigarettes. (And they're not so easy to get, boys!) We will also mail a carton of cigarettes to the boy whose letter comes from the farthest distance.

Come on, fellas, lay those pistols down and get out the paper and pencil.

No, we are not forgetting the girls in service. We want to hear from you, too. Do you smoke?

Mrs. Mark Etheridge, southern novelist and wife of the publisher of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal, runs across some interesting things. One of them was a woman friend who had tried three stores for a girdle, when finally her little 4-year-old spoke up: "Mama, why do you try to put so much in it?"

Pictures from German sources show how the Nazis have tried to make good their boast of turning the continent of Europe into a fortress. Huge forts, coastal redoubts and pillboxes like these, built by prisoner-workers from the occupied countries, face U. S. and United Nations troops wherever they are landing on Hitler's European Fpirtress. The Nazis, who laughed at the Maginot Line, are

...PERSONAL NEWS NOTES...

VISITING—Miss Mary Elizabeth Lush, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lush, who are living at the J. C. Shinn home. Miss Lush is employed for the summer at the Safeway Experimental Kitchen in Oakland. In the fall, she will return to her studies at Iowa State University.

LOOKING WORRIED—Mrs. E. C. Grau, because of the low level of the water in Grau Lake. She and Betty are back in Niles to live again, while Captain Grau continues on his way eastward, probably overseas.

OFF TO FISH—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Orcutt and daughter, Jeanette. Where? Oh, anywhere—not too far—where it looks like good fishing. They expect to be gone for two weeks.

BACK TO SCHOOL—Mrs. Myrtle Miller, of Irvington, to take the summer session commercial course at San Jose State.

Mrs. Wilder IN A DITHER because her glasses were broken, made a special trip to Oakland last Thursday to be fitted for new ones.

MOVED TO RICHMOND—Mrs. Martha Wyatt and two sons, Billy and Raymond. They have been visiting Mrs. Wyatt's mother, Mrs. Sara Crane, for the past three weeks. They had formerly lived in Oakland.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT—Mrs. Donald E. Farnsworth of Niles, with her four young children. Her husband, who was formerly employed at the Matson Navigation Co., has been sent to Farragut, Idaho, to take his boot camp training.

FIFTEEN YEARS of married life—being celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Connolly of Irvington. They spent their anniversary at the home of friends in Walnut Creek last week-end. Mr. and Mrs. William Murray and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Benney were their hosts and hostesses.

Freedom From Fear

ONE of the ideal conditions for mankind, suggested in the Atlantic Charter as one of the Four Freedoms, is freedom from fear. If this state of mind could be legislated out of existence, no one would want to wait an instant before starting the machinery with which to accomplish it. Freedom from fear of aggression, invasion, and other obvious forms of terrorism, was no doubt in the minds of the framers of this charter of liberty; but thoughtful persons are free to go beyond this and consider the elimination of fear as a pattern of thinking, as a motive for action and speech, as affecting health, and as a determining factor of human experience.

There is a form of personal, individual legislation which may be exercised in one's own mental realm. Mary Baker Eddy says on page 61 of "Retrospection and Introspection," "If you rule out every sense of disease and suffering from mortal mind, it cannot be found in the body." Accepting this as true and acting upon it, one may actually legislate over fear in himself.

It is not possible to rid oneself of fear merely by declaring, without understanding, that one is not afraid. This would be meeting one form of mesmeric suggestion with another. One must understand why one is not afraid. The reason a man does not need to fear evil is that God is good and God, good, is omnipotent and omnipresent. If God is all-powerful and man is His image and likeness, as the Bible tells us he is, then man reflects His power, the power of good. The statement, then, that we are not afraid is based on this strong foundation of fact, spiritual truth. It rests on the alms of God and on His all-powerful, protective goodness.

In the Bible story of David, the shepherd boy, who with a sling and a stone killed the giant, Goliath (see I Samuel 17), it is very plainly shown that David considered himself as representing the army of the living God, not as a solitary lad with an ineffectual weapon. He saw that a threat made against God, or against those who relied wholly on the one and only God, could have no power. If God is all-power, how can there be any opposite?

We can think of our brave soldiers as the representatives of the army of God, never helpless or isolated, but reflecting God's all-power, one with His omnipotence, protected by His encircling love. We read in the Bible (I John 4:18), "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." To hate an enemy as a personal entity does not cast out fear, but to love God, good, so completely, to love Principle so entirely, that we trust our very lives to His keeping while we serve Him in whatever way He chooses is manifesting the love that casts out fear. This is our protection. . . .

No physical compromise, no standing aside, can assure safety; but the clear realization of the perfection of God and His allness can remove the insidious mesmerism of fear and its accompanying threat of danger. Man is safe, for he is fully conscious of his oneness with the omnipotent God, his Father and Mother, whose substance is Spirit, and whose incorporeality his true selfhood reflects.—The Christian Science Monitor.

EAST BAY WOMEN NEEDED FOR ARMY MEDICAL WORK

The Army Medical Department urgently requires the services of patriotic young women for direct assignment or professional training as hospital technicians. Fully qualified technicians will definitely be assigned to their chosen field upon completion of basic training. For those who are not now fully qualified as X-ray technicians, laboratory technicians or dental technicians, but who have had a high school education and have a real interest in one of these professions, the Army provides comprehensive courses of training, upon completion of which graduates will be assigned to Army hospitals both here and abroad. Women with college training or teaching experience are needed as psychiatric social workers, psychiatric assistants, occupational therapist assistants and educational reconditioning personnel.

To fully acquaint women of the East Bay area with the opportunities offered them for self-development and advancement in the Medical Department of the Army and to discuss individual problems with them, representatives of the Medical Department of the Army, Major Arthur C. Miller and Capt. Edward P. Welke, will be on duty at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 415 13th St., Tribune Tower, Oakland, on Tuesday, July 11. Interviews will be by appointment only, which can be made by telephoning GLencourt 2337.

Truckee is named for the Washoe Indian chieftain who led General Fremont, discovered of Lake Tahoe, across Emigrant Pass.

IRVINGTON P. T. A. APPOINTS CHAIRMEN

THEY'RE DOING THEIR PART LET'S DO OURS!

The Fifth War Loan will end July 8. But the war will not.

They're doing their part—

On that day, and for many days thereafter, Americans will be fighting . . . being wounded . . . dying. They are doing their part now and they will go right on doing it.

Let's do ours—

Let's buy as many War Bonds as we possibly can during this Fifth War Loan Campaign. Then let's continue to do our part by buying more War Bonds day by day.
